Michigan Chamber endorses Tudor Dixon in Republican primary for governor

(LANSING, Mich.) – The Michigan Chamber of Commerce today announced its endorsement of candidate Tudor Dixon in the Republican gubernatorial primary election on Aug. 2, 2022.

“The Chamber is pleased to make this endorsement in the upcoming GOP primary election,” said Jim Holcomb, president & CEO. “Tudor Dixon is a strong, principled leader who has demonstrated a commitment to free enterprise, our state’s shared economic prosperity and a predictable regulatory climate.”

“Tudor understands the many critical roles Michigan job providers play – from advancing a resilient, growing economy to being innovators and supporters of our families and communities,” said Wendy Block, VP of Business Advocacy and Member Engagement. “We believe she’s the best choice for Republican voters in August.”

The Chamber will wait until after the results of the August primary to make any endorsement determination for the November general election.

All Chamber endorsements are made by the organization’s PAC Board comprised of member businesses and organizations. The Dixon endorsement comes after a detailed evaluation of the candidates running in the primary, their backgrounds, ability and approach to governing, stances on key issues impacting Michigan Chamber members and the state’s business community, and motivation to run for office.
